

TREASURY'S PLAN HELPS STOCKS

Sentiment Changed on News That Secretary Shaw Purposes to Relieve Money Market.

MARKET BECOMES STRONG

Little Business Other Than That of Professionals Transacted on Exchange.

Stocks were stronger yesterday, and, despite the fact that no public interest had been awakened, the market showed general advances at the close. Sentiment was favorably affected by the announcement over night from Washington that the Secretary of the Treasury had made arrangements to provide $40,000,000 in cash at one stroke for national bank deposits, in case a stringency arose in the money market. This was to be done from accumulated internal revenue receipts which, it is announced, are really not in the Treasury Department. The Secretary asserts he has precedent.

The dominating influence of this announcement was seen in the better tone in the stock market. The news also affected the money market, where lenders of time funds showed less disinclination to loan. Time rates were appreciably easier, although not much business was done. Sterling exchange was dull and practically unchanged.

The professional character of the market caused some irregularity, but the trend at the close was upward. Government bonds were weaker in some issues. Railroad bonds were stronger.

Sales at the Board, including undated stocks, amounted to $88,428 shares, against $8,273 shares on Thursday and $26,438 shares on Wednesday. Following is a summary of yesterday's market:
